Green is the New Black. How to Change the World with Style is a book by Tamsin Blanchard that talks about the color of hope as the symbol of rebirth for the planet. And not just in terms of energy savings and the recycling of materials but also in terms of fashion and design. It's like a bible of advice and curiosities for the eco-fashionista to consult not only because today green is trendy but because all it takes is a little bit of effort to achieve great results. Thus green is the focus of eco-friendly looks for spring, interpreted in shades of emerald, apple, flag, lime, leaf, grass, mint, olive and bottle. This wide range of nuances manages to debunk that myth of green
